

Dear DDECS2009 participants,

The organizer of DDECS2009, Technical University of Liberec, is not able to charge your credit cards directly. Instead, the fee is converted to Czech Crowns (according to the official exchange rate) and the amount will then be given to the bank (along with other necessary information). The bank shall then perform the transaction. However, this will most likely occur on a different day to when the calculation was made.

Thanks to the ever-changing exchange rate, it is possible that you shall be charged a different amount than was written on the invoice, and this difference (plus or minus) can be up to several percent.

We are unable to deal with this discrepancy and we are ready to pay back the difference; in such cases, please inform us how many Euros were really charged from your credit card.

Many apologies for the inconvenience.

DDECS2009 organizing committee.
